An Oid Ecliable House.

One da, this week we chanced to drop into the store of J. Lieber & Co., on the northwest corner of the Court House Square, and we confess that we were profited at the evidence of success, and well deserved success, too, there to be seen. This is one of the oldest, as well as the most reliable houses in the Northwest.

too, there to be seen. This is one of the oldest, as well as the most reliable houses in the Northwest, having been opened in 1846, since which time its business has constantly increased until now it is not surpassed by any house in the great Platte Valley.

We found the house filed to overflowing with one of the largest, and hand-somest stocks of goods, just suited to the season, and to the wants of the people of this section, that we have ever hed the pleasure of examining, and, we must say, after pricing the various articles, we were astonished at the low prices at which they are selling the very best artices to be had anywhere in the Wes. The superior quality of their goods and the reasonable prices at which they sell, can only be accounted for from the fact that they buy from first hands in the Eastern markets, and that the immense business they do warrants them in selling at the possible profits.

Their stock of Dry goods is immense, embracing the latest and most fasty goods in the way of silks, alpacas, musling, prists, white goods, hosiery, gloves, consets, sammer shawls, skirts, with good and controllers.

Owing to a press of oth matter, the County Financial Statement does not appear on this side of our paper to-day. It will be continued next week.

As the time for the Baltimore Convention draws near, the prospects of the nominees of the Cincianati Convention grow brighter.

made that Horace Greeley the nominee of the Liberal Republican Convention, it grated harshly on the nerves of many Demo-for he had been tried and proved himself true to the trust reposed in him by the Democratic party; but Horace Greeley, the father of hie Republican party; a life-long enemy to every principle ever entertained by Democrats; a man tertained by Democrats, a may who has said more hard things about Democrats than any other living man, to think of supporting him for the highest office in the gift of the American people was drawing a little too heavy on their stock of Passiveism. But now that the mind has had time to reflect, to survey the field, and take all the bearings, when we consider that Democrats have said just as many hard things about Horace Greeley as he ever imagined about Democrats, and are even on that score; when we consider that Greeley is honest, laboring people, is a man of vast learning and experience, warm hearted and benevolent; when att these things are considered, it does not seem such a hard matter surely higher considerations than this should enter into the contest. True, the welfare of the country demands the overthrow of Grant and the party that runs him, but we want a better and not a worse man for President than Grant. man for President than Grant. We want a statesman, not a military despot to fill the office of chief magistrate. We want a man who will appoint honest and competent men to fill the offices at his disposal, and not his rela- HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the tions and party pets without hon-esty and experience; and more than all we want a man for Presi-dent, who will bring the Government back to what it was intended by its founders, and not create but twenty, and so natural and
